* The gross salary comprises basic pay, special pay and allowances like dearness allowance, local allowance, city compensatory allowance, family allowance, special allowance, traveling allowance, etc. There are also few special functional allowances. The eligibility of the employee for drawing the various allowances and their rates are determined by his grade/designation, function and place of posting. The rates of allowances are decided by the Reserve Bank in consultation with the recognised trade unions representing the respective classes of employees. The total monthly emoluments may differ from month to month on account of the changes in the items/rates of pay and allowances.
